Even as more and more organizations adopt paperless business software to optimize operations, there is no shortage of paper in the office. Every day, workgroups spend excess time sifting through paper and entering information into critical business systems—a slow and error-prone process indeed. At the end of the day, mistakes are made, bottlenecks halt processes, deadlines are missed, customers are upset, and profit margins shrink. But with the KV-S1026C-MKII and KV-S1037X from Panasonic, busy workgroups won't have to worry about these kinds of problems.

"The Panasonic KV-S1026C-MKII and KV-S1037X will have an immediate, positive impact on workgroup productivity. Both devices offer three dedicated single-touch scan buttons to streamline and standardize scanning workflows and impressive throughput technology like intelligent double-feed detection capabilities, a dedicated double-feed detection skip button, and the Mixed Batch Card Guide to keep information flowing," said Lee Davis, Editor of Scanner and Software Evaluation for Keypoint Intelligence - Buyers Lab. "The bundled Panasonic Image Capture Plus is another differentiator that helped these devices earn the honor of Outstanding Workgroup Scanner. The software provides customers with a host of image enhancement features and functionalities, automates indexing capabilities, and routes documents to email, the cloud, and other core business systems."
